REXBURG HOSTING GOVERNOR OTTER'S JUNE CAPITAL FOR A DAY

(BOISE) – Governor C.L. "Butch" Otter announced today that Rexburg will host his next Capital for a Day on Friday, June 7th, as Madison County continues its centennial celebration.

Governor Otter brings State government to Idahoans living outside Boise each month by making a different town in Idaho the state's "Capital for a Day." The meetings provide local residents an opportunity to have open discussions about government issues and public policy with Governor Otter, members of his Cabinet and other senior State officials.

The next Capital for a Day is scheduled from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Legacy Air Museum, 400 Airport Road, in Rexburg. Governor Otter also will join local officials and residents at noon for a no-host luncheon at the same location.

State officials joining Governor Otter at Capital for a Day will include Lieutenant Governor Brad Little, Idaho Transportation Department Director Brian Ness, Department of Parks and Recreation Director Nancy Merrill, Office of Energy Resources Administrator John Chatburn; Colonel Brad Richy, administrator of the Idaho Bureau of Homeland Security; Kelly Pearce, administrator of the Idaho Division of Building Safety; Mathew Weaver, deputy director of the Idaho Department of Water Resources; Luci Willits, chief of staff at the Idaho Department of Education; and Mike Rush, executive director of the State Board of Education. Also on hand will be senior representatives from the Department of Commerce, Department of Health and Welfare, Department of Labor and Department of Finance.

"The slogan 'America's Family Community' pretty much says it all. As home to BYU-Idaho and the newly rechristened Idaho International SummerFest, and as a gateway to Yellowstone National Park, Grand Teton National Park and our own Harriman State Park, Rexburg is the kind of place anyone would be glad to call home," Governor Otter said. "My Cabinet and I look forward to hearing from local folks how we can help them keep improving on what already is a wonderful, world-class community."
